LEAGUE DIED A BORNIN'

"JACK" SWEENEY FORMALLY ANNOUNCED DEMISE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

SEASON NOT TO BE OPENED TOMORROW

H. V. Leist Talks to the Democrat-Sentinel—Mr. Brown Will Continue the "Brownies" and Play Independent Ball.

It died a bornin'. Such is the fate of the Interstate Independent Baseball league, which was to have opened its season tomorrow, with the Chillicothe team playing the Sedalia Browns in this city. The Leavenworth Post of yesterday afternoon tells the story of the league's demise, as follows:

"Jack Sweeney, former president of the Interstate Independent Baseball league, for the cities of Kansas City, St. Joseph, Sedalia and Chillicothe, in Missouri, and Leavenworth and Kansas City, in Kansas, announced this morning that he has given up the proposition and will close the official business of the league at once.

"Sweeney said: 'I have all the confidence in the world in the proposition, and regret very much that it is necessary, on account of the lack of funds, that the proposition should fall through, but I have done everything in my power, even to the extent of sinking my individual funds, in the preparations for the season.

"My expenses for the last month have been so exorbitant that it was impossible for me to raise future funds. Parties who promised me financial assistance have failed to come through, and the result is that I will have to let the matter drop, though with a few hundred dollars I believe that a good league could be established and soon be put on a paying basis."

"The ball players who 'made good' with Sweeney all say that they regret the falling through of the league very much, but almost every one of the players called on Sweeney to bid him good by and to express themselves as laying no personal blame on him for the proposition falling through."

H. V. Leist, of this city, who was to have been president of the league, said to the Democrat-Sentinel today:

"The news of Sweeney's 'lay-down' comes as a surprise, and it looks as if the league was a 'dead one' for the time being. I want to say, however, that Drummond Brown, who has the Sedalia franchise, has been 'on the square' from start to finish, and he deeply regrets that the formal opening will not take place tomorrow, as announced.

"Mr. Brown is a professional ball player, who came to Sedalia with the hope of making this city his permanent home. He likes the city and its people and desired to bring his family here."

"He has two telegrams in his pocket today wanting him to play elsewhere, one of the offers being a salary of $225 a month, but he will not accept it at present.

"Instead, he intends to remain here for the time being, and conduct the Brownies as an independent team, playing teams of St. Louis, Kansas City and surrounding towns at intervals, probably two or three games a week.

"Mr. Brown has not abandoned hope of organizing the league as originally intended in time—if not this season, then next season, and it is his desire to retain the Sedalia franchise, in which event no one who has assisted him financially will lose a dollar.

"I am a pretty good judge of men, I think, and I want to say that I never met a more upright man than Drummond Brown. He's on the level, just so sure as two and two are four, and I feel confident that it is only a question of time until he, 'Kid' Nichols and other baseball men get together and carry to perfection the original plan for the organization of the Interstate Independent Baseball league."

In connection with the above, Mr. Leist has gone down into his own pocket with a view to giving Sedalia a first class ball club and being a "good fellow," so to speak, and he firmly believes that all will yet come out right in the end.

The Kansas City Times of this morning printed the following: "According to Jack Sweeney, promoter of the Interstate Independent League of Baseball clubs, said league will never face the flag. The season was to have opened today, but Mons. Sweeney got tired of financing the entire 'layout,' and yesterday he tossed his franchise (Leavenworth) into the discard.

"I am out about $1,800 on the deal," said Sweeney last night, "and that's enough for me. I was promised much help from the other franchise holders, but they failed to come through. Then we couldn't get a park in Kansas City, and without that thriving village we were lost."

"The others may try to start, but I doubt it. At any rate, I have released all my players, paid their hotel bills, and they are free to play anywhere they can get a job. Too bad, because I had a cinch on that pennant."

WILL GET $200 REWARD

OFFICER HOWARD WOOD FOR ARREST OF FRANK S. KIRSCH, OF ST. LOUIS.

HAD $800 THAT BELONGED TO ANOTHER

Officer Wood Recovered the Money and Will Receive the $200 Reward as Soon as Kirsch is Found Guilty.

Howard Wood, a police officer, will receive a reward of $200 for the arrest of Frank Stevens Kirsch, who was taken in custody here by Officer Wood less than two weeks ago, for failing to return $800 in cash to Henry Schumacher, a St. Louis brewer, which money Kirsch said he had found on the street in St. Louis.

Immediately after Schumacher lost the money he offered a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the man who had found it.

Chief of Police Creevy telegraphed to Sedalia to apprehend the prisoner, and, in accordance, Officer Wood located Kirsch on the southbound M. & K. T. flyer.

More than $800 was found on his person. This sum was returned to the owner. Kirsch has been bound over to the criminal court in St. Louis.

MRS. GUILD WAS HOSTESS

She Entertained for Visitors Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. L. N. Guild, 902 West Broadway, delightfully entertained fewer than a score of lady friends at her home from 3 to 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon for Misses Ray and Mary Post, who are guests of their sister, Mrs. P. H. Brinkerhoff.

The amusement was unique. Each guest related an unusual occurrence or experience had during travels away from home.

Mrs. H. A. Pratt described the taverns and caves of Virginia; Mrs. Sallie Potter Sneed described the convention of the Women's State Federation of Clubs at Springfield, Mo.; another lady told of her being run over while sight-seeing on Pike's Peak.

Refreshments of turtle fish salad, wafers, ices, cake, coffee and other delicacies were served.

MR. STANLEY GAVE A DINING

Later, His Guests Attended the Crystal Theater.

Mr. W. Pitkin Stanley entertained a dinner party of twelve at his home, 711 West Broadway, in honor of Miss Leah Van Riper, of St. Louis, last evening.

The color scheme was pink, and the dinner was served in seven courses. Those that made up the party, besides Miss Van Riper, were Misses Boss Doyle, Arne Skinner, Helen and Christine Spencer and Jennie Morey; Messrs. Harry Hawkins, Al Cordes, John Antes, Cog Easton and Charles Messerly, Jr.

After the dinner the party attended the opening performance at The Crystal, the new summer theater.

BLEW HIMSELF TO PIECES

A SALVATION ARMY GIRL

MET YOUNG MAN WHO WEARS THE BLUE RECENTLY AT LEAVENWORTH, KAS.

WAS A RESULT OF A VISIT TO SEERESS

"Twas a Case of 'Anity' Meeting His 'Soulmate,' and Announcement Is Made That They Will Marry on June 16.

Leavenworth, Kan., May 14.—"You are going on a journey," said the seeress, "and at the end of this journey you will meet a man whom you will identify by the blue uniform he will be wearing, and this is the man you are to marry."

"Oh, then, will I really marry a brother Salvationist?" asked the girl. "No, although he will wear a blue uniform, it will not be worn for a religious reason, but in another cause."

This is the conversation which took place about three months ago between the seeress and Miss Stella Bridgeman, who had gone to a little side street in Cincinnati for the purpose of having her future revealed.

In a few days, Miss Bridgeman, the adopted daughter of Captain and Mrs. Taylor, of the Salvation Army, in this city, had reached Leavenworth and was in attendance at a meeting of the Salvation Army in their hall between Fourth and Fifth streets, on Shawnee street.

Shortly before the opening of the service a tall, well built figure in a blue uniform entered the hall, and after securing a seat, spent the greater part of the evening in watching a dark eyed girl at the further end of the hall.

As evidenced by the fact that the date for the wedding of Miss Bridgeman and Richard Hanson, Co. "I," Third battalion of engineers, Fort Leavenworth, has been set for June 16, it was undoubtedly a case of love at first sight, as—would have been said in "ye olden days," or in a more modern case, an affinity.

Mr. Hanson has acknowledged proudly that the first time he saw Miss Bridgeman he felt instinctively that she was the girl he was to marry, and although Miss Bridgeman had to wait three days for an introduction, she also was aware that Mr. Hanson was her "soul mate."

Captain Taylor says: "You know it is against our religious doctrine to believe anything that is told us by fortune tellers, but I am satisfied that there is really something to this, and there is no doubt that it is a genuine love match."

Mrs. Brewer called at the police station yesterday, told of the killing and asked to be locked up. The officers later found the body of Arn in the yard of Mrs. Brewer's home, shot through the heart.

The woman refused to give any explanation of the deed, except that Arn had annoyed her and that she was fully justified in killing him.

It Was Bacon and Not Human Flesh Baggage Man Smelled.

Chicago, May 14.—Hyde Park for a brief hour thrilled with expectation of an unusual murder mystery.

A peculiar, unpleasant odor which assailed the nostrils of John Weibert, baggage master at the Illinois Central depot, was discovered to emanate from a trunk which had lain ten days unclaimed in the baggage room.

Satisfied that he trunk contained a body, he called the police. After a collection of old hats, shoes and souvenirs had been removed, a side of bacon was found to be the cause of the thrill.

DUBS MEN GOODY GOODS

AUTHOR OF "THREE WEEKS" SAYS OUR MEN ARE NOT NAUGHTY ENOUGH.

PRaises FIGURES OF AMERICAN GIRLS

Mrs. Elinor Glyn Advises Old Roues of London to Try to See Sights at Flatiron Building in the City of New York.

New York, May 14.—Mrs. Elinor Glyn, famous for "Three Weeks" and the reception it gained for her in America, has her revenge on American men.

She has published a new book, "Elizabeth Visits America," and while in it she scores the American men, she lauds the girls of the United States.

Of the men she says: "When you're out with them you feel as though you were with kind aunts or grandmothers. They don't try to make love to you or say things with two meanings, and they are perfectly serious all the time."

Mrs. Glyn says the American girls are beauties, however. "And it's a mercy," she remarks, "that the American women have such lovely feet and nice shapes, because when they cross a place called the Flatiron building the gusts do what they please with their garments."

"If the Roues' club could get itself removed from Piccadilly to the Flatiron, those wicked old men would spend their days glued to the windows."

Last night at the trial before Police Judge Stewart behind closed doors the teachers pleaded not guilty. Their trial was set for May 22. The teachers accused the little boy of stealing a $5 bill from Miss Tilden. BURGLAR ALARM IN CHURCH

A Priest Takes Precautions Against a Gang of Robbers.

Hutchinson, Kan., May 14.—Fearing that desecration of the blessed sacrament by plunderers might be attempted here, the Rev. Fr. William Farrell, pastor of St. Teresa's Catholic church, has installed a complete burglar alarm system in the church.

All the windows in the church will be barred and beams placed at the inside of the two outer doors. Fr. Farrell believes that the men who have robbed several churches near here are making a systematic tour of the cities where Catholic churches are not guarded. The chalice and the ciborium of the local church are of solid gold and the other sacred objects are of heavy gold plate.

The Weather Forecast.

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, with showers and thunderstorms; cooler west portion Saturday.

COMING HOME?

Back to Sedalia, the beautiful Queen City, and visit again the scenes of years gone by.

The Home Coming reunion will be held October 2, 3, 4 and 5, during the week of the Missouri state fair.

The semi-centennial of the founding of the city will be celebrated, and a grand welcome will be extended to all who gather to commemorate the event.

There are ex-Sedalians everywhere, but they will all be here again at the Home Coming.

THE STORM BREWING.

So far from putting an end to the agitation, as the trusts and their organs pretend, the enactment of the Payne-Aldrich bill in its present shape will be, according to all indications, the signal for a storm of political revolution that will end only by sweeping every enemy or half-faced friend of genuine tariff reform, whether republicans or democrats, out of the halls of congress.

Already the mutterings of the storm come from the east and the west in the indignant denunciation of the scheme, to maintain protective duties on hides, lumber, iron ore and other materials of protection, as well as articles of necessity in this upward revision.

From a mere party point of view, so great a blunder was never committed as this flagrant violation of the pledges of the last campaign, in servile obedience to the trusts.

It would have been tenfold better for the republican party had this extra session of congress never been convened, if it is to end with the Payne-Aldrich monster of monopoly. The session has already destroyed the reputation of many a demagogue on both sides, who has posed as a champion of the rights of the people, and its work in this direction is by no means completed.

TAX ALL INCOMES.

In these times much is said of a tax on incomes, as if such a tax had no existence. In the last analysis, what are the exorbitant duties on clothing and other articles of necessity but taxes on the income, the earnings of the masses of the people? The difference between this and the income tax that was talked about is that the new edition of the tariff falls with heavier weight on the poorest mechanic and his family than on the multi-millionaire.

Senator Bailey said with truth the other day that the poor devil who indulges in a package of tobacco pays more revenue for the support of the government than the self-exiled Astor, who expends his millions of revenue in London. But the tax on tobacco makes at least for public revenue, while most of the duties in the tariff system are designed to tax the many in order to pour Pactolian streams of wealth into the coffers of a few.

PROFITABLE COMPETITION.

To the firm or corporation which does not advertise increased competition almost invariably means decreased profits. But keener competition does not necessarily mean smaller revenues to a properly managed concern.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of an English mineral water company, held in London a week or so ago, it was announced that the year had been remarkable for the vigorous invasion of the English market of foreign mineral waters. This invasion had been met, the officers reported by increased advertising outlay. The net result was a substantial growth in the English concern's profits.

Whatever drives a shrewd advertiser to greater efforts in publicity, in this country as in England, drives him with accelerated speed along the highway of success.

Official figures give a grim picture of conditions that have prevailed in Russia up to within a recent date. The police department of the empire reports that from Jan. 1, 1905, to Jan. 1, 1909, there were 3,315 condemnations to death and 1,435 executions. No doubt there has been a great deal of turbulence and crime in Russia, but the statement contains more than a hint that in some instances at least the authorities have worked strenuously and mercilessly to punish political offenses.

Senators Dooliver and Cummins both object to training with Senator Aldrich in framing the tariff. They represent the Iowa idea, and although the state is strongly republican, the people want the tariff taken off of raw materials and reduced on necessities.

Lieutenant Shackleton has named a South pole mountain peak after Queen Alexandra, of England. But if he expects her to trapeze down there to unfurl a flag or break a bottle of champagne he will be disappointed.

A Boston woman is said to have "embraced" twenty-three different religions, but it is not known how many of them she has practiced.

A Chicago butcher gets a $1,000 fine for making sausage of bad horse-flesh. Something must be done to improve the breed of horses.

The needleless compass has been invented. The next thing on the program in logical order to be announced is the northless pole.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM DREAD CATARRH

Why don't you get rid of that nasty, humiliating disease, catarrh? You can do it if you really want to. But you can't cure catarrh in a few days, that's an utter impossibility, because there is no remedy known that will kill the catarrh germs in that short time.

But you can cure catarrh if you will have a little patience and breathe in Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mey) three or four times a day.

Hyomei cures catarrh by killing the germs and it kills the germs because it gets where the germs are.

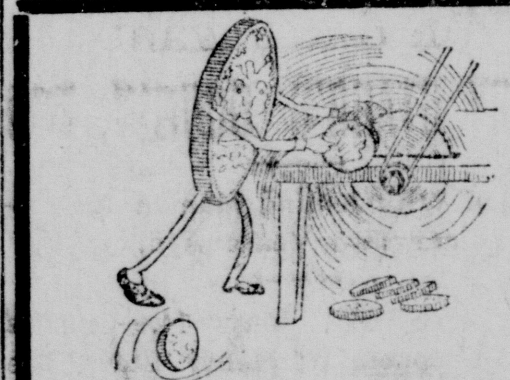

Hyomei is a powerful antiseptic and germ killer air; it is made from the fluid extracted from the eucalyptus trees of inland Australia where catarrh has never existed.

It gives relief instantly, stops hacking in a few days and is guaranteed to cure catarrh, asthma, croup and bronchitis or money back. A complete outfit, including inhaler, costs $1.00, and extra bottles of Hyomei, if afterwards needed, costs but 50c. Sold by leading druggists everywhere. "Hyomei certainly saved my life and I accord it the credit which it deserves and merits. There is nothing too strong for me to say regarding Hyomei."—Mrs. Ada Hopkins, 8 Cutter Ave., Coldwater, Mich., August 22, 1908.

MOTHER'S DAY OBSERVANCE

Elaborate Program Arranged for M. E. Church, South, Sunday.

Mothers' day will be observed at the M. E. church, South, Sunday, with music and sermon appropriate to the occasion and special program having been arranged.

The pastor, Rev. J. F. Caskey, has written a poem entitled, "That Best Friend." It reads as follows:

That Best Friend.
She's old and gray and bowed with age,

Though once she was young and fair and gay.

The care of years has seamed her face

For youth and beauty cannot stay. Though lovelier far she is to me Than when her hair was jet.

Her angel face now beams on me, Ah! can I ere that face forget?

What she has done and borne for me God's angel well doth know.

Shall I be false to love like that, Such love as only mothers know?

Let shame and vileness black my soul With every crime and sinful deed; Save me from that one foulest guilt, Untrue to her, that Friend indeed.

With tender hand she bathed my brow,

With tender voice she stilled my cry, With waiting heart she watched my bed;

If I be false, then let me die And be forgotten, as the wretch Whose selfish heart received life's best,

But gave in turn no recompense For God's best gift, a Mother's love.

For God's best gift, a Mother's love.

DEATH CHEATED THE PRISON

A Pennsylvania Capitol Grafter Died at Sherry's.

New York, May 14.—John H. Sanderson, the Philadelphia contractor, who is out on bond for defrauding the state of Pennsylvania in the scandals growing out of the building of the thirteen million dollar state capitol, died of heart disease at 5:30 o'clock last afternoon, just after he had returned to his apartments at Sherry's from a drive in Central park. He has been living at Sherry's ever since his conviction, March 14, 1908, for which he was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. He went there with his bride.

PRISONER WAS LOST IN JAIL

Authorities Forgot About Man Awaiting Trial.

Hammond, Ind., May 14.—Because he sold a pretended friend 5 cents' worth of beer to assuage his thirst, John Linnich, of Gary, spent two months in the Lake county jail at Crown Point before his case came to trial.

The wife and five children of the man did not even know where he was, and it was not until Prosecuting Attorney Charles Greenwald, of Hammond, called the case for trial that Sheriff Thomas Grant, of Crown Point, found Linnich, who was lost in jail for nearly two months.

Linnich said that Robbins asked him for a drink of beer after he (Linnich) had purchased it. Linnich jokingly said, "If you want my beer you will have to pay for it." Robbins then had Linnich arrested for selling liquor without a license.

Boots and Gloves.

In a recent divorce case in Scotland it was testified that a lady, searching her maid's trunks, found 200 pairs of her own old gloves therein.

"Abroad," said a dealer, agent this happening, "it isn't unusual for a woman of fashion to have 200 pairs of gloves. At the sale of the duchess of Somerset's things, over 2,000 pairs, all as good as new, were put up."

"You see, gloves are cheaper abroad. Over there you'll pay a dollar for an article that would cost you $2.50 here. But, aside from that, foreign women incline to go in more for gloves—and boots, too—than we do. The foreign woman is apt to be better gloved and booted than her American sister."

It Was the Cat.

The yellow-haired hostess rushed suddenly to the center table, took all the papers off and smoothed down a thick, fluffy yellow skin that lay there.

"It's my cat," she explained. "My poor little pet cat that died last spring. Isn't it beautiful? She was a lovely cat. You see her picture up there on the wall when she was alive. Lovely little kitty!" she purred to the skin, while some of her guests shuddered and one whispered to the other:

"I don't see how she could do it. I'd rather have the skin of my husband on the table or floor than my pet cat."

Children Are Victims.

A member of the Society for Political Study in New York said the other day that the factories claim more victims than the rivers in China ever did, more little children going to their death from these places. The mines and the sweatshops are worse than the factories, she said. In the course of the discussion the point was brought out that there is doubt as to whether the mothers in China ever do throw their children into the rivers.

RUMPUS IN A COLLEGE

And a Memphis, Tenn., Lady Nearly Lost Three Fingers.

Memphis, Tenn., May 14.—Charging that Fred C. Mullinix, manager of Hill's Business college, assaulted him and almost chewed off three of his wife's fingers, G. B. Frasher, registrar at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, obtained a warrant charging Mullinix with assault and battery.

The trouble occurred in the office of Mullinix at the college, when he called Frasher and his wife in for a conference. Frasher declares Mullinix locked the door and accused them of having written to Mr. Hill about him.

He then claims Mullinix attempted to strike him. When his wife, fearing Mullinix would injure her husband, attacked the manager, Mullinix held her right hand in his mouth and chewed her fingers, so Frasher charges.

Woman Out of a Job.

The New York Times has an interesting editorial on the "Woman Out of a Job." This is not the business woman seeking a position, but the so-called home woman. There was a time when the girl made her wedding clothes and the expectant mother fashioned dainty garments for her first born. Now trousseaux and layettes can be bought ready made much better and cheaper than they can be manufactured at home. The mother does not rock her baby to sleep, as that is forbidden; nor does she rock the cradle, for there are no cradles. It is unsanitary to cuddle the baby, and it is put to sleep by itself. Women living in "two rooms and a bath" are companions for their husbands, and not helpmeets. The exigencies of modern life make this enforced idleness necessary, and what wonder that women want something to do? It is foolish to tell them "to go back to their homes," such as they are, for they are only "out of a job" in them.

BUTCHER KILLED WITH AX

BED WAS THEN OILED AND SET ON FIRE BY SOME PERSON NOT YET KNOWN.

CRIME COMMITTED WHILE MAN SLEPT

Wife and Daughter Tell of How They Found Things, But There is a Discrepancy — Murdered Man Was Wealthy.

St. Paul, Minn., May 14.—Louis Arbogast, a wealthy butcher, was murdered in his home yesterday. His head was crushed and his bed saturated with oil and set on fire.

Ida Arbogast, daughter of the dead man, told Police Captain Clark that she smelled smoke coming from her parents' apartment, where she found the bed ablaze. Her father and mother were in it.

"I dragged my mother out," she said to Capt. Clark. "By this time the bed was all ablaze. I called to the neighbors, and they put out the fire."

Mrs. Arbogast, whose body is slightly burned, is reported to have said she was in the bathroom when she heard her daughter scream. She ran to her husband's room and found the bed ablaze, with her husband's unconscious form lying on it.

The police found an ax covered with blood and wrapped in some old clothing, in the cellar of the Arbogast house.

No motive for the crime has yet been shown.

Arbogast is reported to have been worth about $200,000.

In Church, Undertaker Took His Own Life With Revolver.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 14.—By shooting himself through the head, B. H. Bilefeld, a well known undertaker, committed suicide in St. Lawrence's church, where he had conducted scores of services.

The sound of a shot attracted attention and Bilefeld was found lying dead. Two little girls going in the church to pray found Bilefeld lying beside the communion rail on the step leading to the altar.

"I believe my father was temporarily insane," said his daughter. "He has been acting queerly for months. At noon he was arranging the funeral of a child for the next day. Two hours later he was dead."

TOO MANY SOCIETIES

Is Curse of America, Declares Speaker at Men's Meeting.

Philadelphia, Penn., May 14.—Union was made the keynote of yesterday's session of the American Association of Museums, which is meeting at the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, Thirty-third and South streets. President William J. Holland, of the association, in an address, said:

"Union is strength and America is cursed today by too many societies. If the thing keeps up we shall soon have societies for investigating the Proboscis of Mosquitoes and for Scrutinizing the Tips of Horseshoe Nails."

He then went on to point out that the American association should embrace every museum in the land, whether dealing with art, science or industry.

Edison's New Wireless.

About seventeen years ago Thomas A. Edison started the world by carrying on telegraphic communication between a moving train and stations along the railroad without any wire connection therewith. The system employed was to mount a board covered with tinfoil edgewise on the car roof. The tinfoil formed part of a local telegraph circuit, which inductively affected the telegraph wires that paralleled the track, and in this way the messages were made to "leap" from the train to the telegraph lines. The recent experiments on a well-known railroad where messages were exchanged between an operator on a fast-moving train and operators in Toledo, Elkhart and Chicago were of a different character. The Hertzian waves were used, which transmitted the messages directly to the receiving stations, and not to the telegraph wires along the track.

Log Far Underground.

Wood 404 feet underground in a perfect state of preservation was found at the Alabang stock farm while boring for the second artesian well there. The drill had penetrated to a depth of 400 feet and had just been drilling hard rock when it suddenly struck a log which was five feet in diameter and in a perfect state of preservation. How the log could be so far underground and underneath a ledge of rock in perfect condition is a question that is puzzling the officials of the bureau of agriculture.—Manila Times.

When Women Are Included.

Miss Crystal McMillan, M. A., B. Sc., explained to the women at a recent suffrage meeting in Scotland that women were only "the people" when there were taxes to pay or they committed crimes. When there was only voting to do "the people" means only men. A university woman suffrage union has been formed in Scotland.

Woman Out of a Job.

The New York Times has an interesting editorial on the "Woman Out of a Job." This is not the business woman seeking a position, but the so-called home woman. There was a time when the girl made her wedding clothes and the expectant mother fashioned dainty garments for her first born. Now trousseaux and layettes can be bought ready made much better and cheaper than they can be manufactured at home. The mother does not rock her baby to sleep, as that is forbidden; nor does she rock the cradle, for there are no cradles. It is unsanitary to cuddle the baby, and it is put to sleep by itself. Women living in "two rooms and a bath" are companions for their husbands, and not helpmeets. The exigencies of modern life make this enforced idleness necessary, and what wonder that women want something to do? It is foolish to tell them "to go back to their homes," such as they are, for they are only "out of a job" in them.

Woman Out of a Job.

The New York Times has an interesting editorial on the "Woman Out of a Job." This is not the business woman seeking a position, but the so-called home woman. There was a time when the girl made her wedding clothes and the expectant mother fashioned dainty garments for her first born. Now trousseaux and layettes can be bought ready made much better and cheaper than they can be manufactured at home. The mother does not rock her baby to sleep, as that is forbidden; nor does she rock the cradle, for there are no cradles. It is put to sleep by itself. Women living in "two rooms and a bath" are companions for their husbands, and not helpmeets. The exigencies of modern life make this enforced idleness necessary, and what wonder that women want something to do? It is foolish to tell them "to go back to their homes," such as they are, for they are only "out of a job" in them.

RUMBLINGS OF THE RAIL

FEWER RAILROAD FATALITIES WHEN FREIGHT TRAFFIC IS REDUCED.

COACH CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources For the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

There was a silver lining under the financial clouds of 1907-08, in the form of a remarkable decrease in the number of railway fatalities, according to a special report made public yesterday by Slason Thompson, editor of the Bureau of Railway News and Statistics. The report, which is based on statistics of the interstate commerce commission, says:

"There were 1,922 fewer fatalities to passengers and employes in railway accidents during the calendar year 1908 than in 1907. Comparing the returns of 1908 with those of the fiscal year 1906-07, the decrease in fatalities was even more gratifying, being 2,173, or 43.4 per cent. Of these, the decrease in passengers killed was from 570 to 292, or nearly 48.8 per cent, and in employes from 4,430 to 2,535, of 43 per cent."

Fatalities to passengers in train accidents decreased 70 per cent in the calendar year 1908, as compared with the fiscal year 1906-07, and 51 per cent among employes hurt in the same class of accidents. The decrease among employes is qualified by the fact that during the panic their ranks were reduced by 15 per cent "laying off."

"All things considered," the report says, "the conclusion is unavoidable that the marked diminution in fatalities in 1908 was due almost entirely to the recession in freight traffic, which took the strain off every department of service and substituted orderly observance of rules by passengers and employes for their violation in the feverish rush of prosperity that culminated in October, 1907. Like conditions produced like results before and after the panic of 1893."

Mr. Thompson notes that the railroads of Great Britain went through the year 1908 without killing a single passenger in a train accident.

Road Abandons Breakfast Calls.
A novel innovation has been installed on the Illinois Central road. Sleeping car passengers are no longer to be disturbed by calls for meals in the dining car.

Under the new rule the passenger leaves a call if breakfast is desired, the same as is customary in hotels, and the sleeping car conductor will see that they are awakened at the time named.

Two objects are represented in this innovation. The morning nap of passengers is not interfered with, and a rush to the dining car, causing inconvenience to all concerned, is prevented.

Engineer Myers Is Better.

Mrs. Hannah J. Lovitt, a former Sedalia lady, now of San Antonio, Texas, is in St. Louis, where her father, John Myers, a Missouri Pacific engineer, is ill with heart trouble at the company hospital.

According to information received today, Mr. Myers is improving. Mrs. Lovitt will remain in St. Louis until Mr. Myers fully recovers. Mrs. Myers is also at her husband's bedside.

You Must Have a Ticket.

In order to prevent passengers entering trains without tickets, Trainmaster Dennis, of the Missouri Pacific, has issued a bulletin requesting the front door of the forward car and the rear door of the rear car on trains Nos 622 and 636 be locked on reaching Sedalia, and the train crew to remain at the only entrance until the outgoing crew arrives, so as to keep passengers without tickets from entering the train.

Automatic Couplers.

Roy Hull, yard clerk for the M. K. & T., is laying off, and Harry Alcorn is filling the place.

WOMAN LOVES HER NEPHEW

With an Aunt's Affection, but Will Not Wed Him.

New York, May 14.—Concerning the report that an engagement existed between herself and Henry E. Huntington, her late husband's nephew, Mrs. Collis P. Huntington says:

"You can say for me that I have no intention of marrying my nephew. Furthermore, you may say that I have no intention of marrying anybody. I love my nephew devotedly, but it is the love my aunt would give her nephew. I can't imagine who the author of this rumor is. There is only one way I can account for it. Mr. Huntington and I have spent much time together since the death of my husband. This was made necessary in settling up the estate.

"I sail for Europe on June 1, there to remain a year. I hope no one will be so unkind as to say that I am eloping with my little nephew."

Holds Prominent Positions.

Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, who for ten years has been the president of Lake Placid conference, was elected president of the American Home Economics association at its last meeting in Washington. Mrs. Richards also has charge of the home economics department of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. First vice-president elected was Miss Isabel Bevier, professor of household science in the University of Illinois. A council of 25 was elected and this council will elect five of its members who, with the five elective officers of the society, will be the executive committee.

A Philanthropic Idea.

In the town of Westford, Mass., many children are brought to the public schools in barges from the surrounding country, and warm soup and cocoa is furnished them by one of the townswomen, Mrs. John C. Abbot, who appreciates the fact that, leaving home so early, they need something warm with their luncheon at noon.

OVERLOOKED FOR THIS TIME.

Substantiated Reasons Why Business Firm "Stood For" Impertinence from Employee.

The New York dry goods firm of Blumstein & Rosenberg had a traveling salesman named Richards. Richards was a good salesman, and when sober a genial fellow. Once, however, after an unusually successful trip he indulged in an unusually successful celebration, and ended by going to sleep in the public office of the company.

"Get up," said Mr. Rosenberg, shaking him violently.

"Rosey, go jump on yourself," said his sleepy employee.

The senior partner tried it next and was rewarded with the words:

"Blumstein, you go to thunder."

The firm held an indignation meeting, decided to dispense with Richards' services, and asked the book-keeper what they owed this erring salesman.

"Fifteen hundred dollars," he reported. "Richards has sold $60,000 worth of goods in the past three months."

The partners looked at each other in silence.

"Rosey," said the senior partner, "you go chump on yourself. I'm going to thunder."—Success Magazine.

Aged Iowan Feared His Children Would Object.

Iowa City, Iowa, May 14.—William Walker, aged 82 years, of Cedar Rapids, fearing the wrath of his children, quietly took his prospective bride, Mrs. Marguerite Heefner, and, boarding the Interurban secretly, came to Iowa City and they were married in the St. James hotel by Justice Horack. The bride is 52 years of age.

Walker has been married four times. He is still hale and hearty and wily enough to elude his children. They returned to Cedar Rapids later, with no fear of having the road to matrimony made rougher by the sons and daughters of Mr. Walker.

THEY COULD NOT AGREE

COMMITTEE NAMED TO CONSIDER PROHIBITION ASKS TO BE DISCHARGED.

SIX MEMBERS AGAINST THE TAX RIDER

Initiative and Referendum Now the Only Hope—The Issue Cannot Again Be Raised in the Legislature.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 14.—The conference committee appointed to bring about an agreement between the house and the senate on prohibition disagreed last night and will ask to be discharged in both bodies today. The vote in the committee to recede from the senate tax rider amendment stood six for and four against, as follows:

To Recede—Senators Anthony, McDavid, Fields; Representatives Rosenger, Leckliter and Conran.

Not to Recede—Senators Gardner and McAllister; Representatives Hart and Foristell.

Conran, who was classed as a tax rider, or as a wet, surprised the wets by getting on the dry side.

Even if the committee could have agreed, the conference was farcical, for the reason that both bodies would have stood by their guns, the house for submission without a tax rider and prohibition in 1913, and the senate for a tax rider, regardless of the recommendations of the committee one way or the other.

This knocks the last breath of life out of prohibition in the legislature, and the temperance folks must get it submitted through the referendum, if at all.

When the committee reports a disagreement today it will likely be discharged. The question of prohibition can not be raised in the legislature again after this, for both branches are at their rope's end.

Luckily for the prohibitionists, the legislature has passed the bill to cure defects in the initiative and referendum. This bill, if signed by Governor Hadley, will make the amendment operative.

It provides that the minimum number of signatures necessary to authorize the secretary of state to call a special election shall be five per cent.

Under the terms of the law 35,000 sworn signatures will be needed, at the least, and the secretary of state can exact 8 per cent, or over 55,000. The constitutionality of the initiative and referendum will be attacked, it is believed, and a supreme court decision will be needed to set that at rest.

Charles E. Stokes said recently that if the resolution fails the temperance folk will begin getting up their petitions at once for submission.

"We will not be beaten by this legislature. Prohibition will be voted upon at the election of 1910. You can rest assured of that," he said.

Petitions came in from several counties yesterday, signed by mothers, urging submission.

Senator Anthony, one of the senators who fought hardest for submission without a tax rider, acknowledged defeat last night, and indicated that nothing more can be done.

TWENTY NEGROES WHIPPED

Night Riders Then Placed in Jail Charged With Assault.

Galveston, Texas, May 14.—Following a series of depredations by a secret organization of negro night riders in Angelina county, twenty blacks were captured at an early hour yesterday morning by a posse of white men. The negroes had assaulted many farmers and their hired hands, damaged property and threatened a reign of terror unless checked.

The negroes were given thirty lashes and placed in jail. They are charged with assault to murder, conspiracy, carrying concealed arms and other offenses.

WANTS BRIDE RESTORED

Pittsburg, Pa., May 14.—Charles W. Rothrock, a young husband of 18 years, has applied to the Allegheny county courts to have his bride of a few days taken from a room over her father's butcher shop and restored to him.

He alleges that Herman Glasser, the muscular father of his bride, whipped him after they returned from their elopement last week, and taking his wife from him has locked her up.

Glasser says it is all true, and that he will whip Rothrock again if he comes near his house. The court set Saturday morning for a show down between father and husband of the 17-year-old bride.

A DIVORCEE WAS KILLED

BY A JEALOUS SUITOR, ACCORDING TO THE THEORY OF THE POLICE.

SLAIN NEAR CEMETERY IN RHODE ISLAND

Young Woman Murdered on Way Home From Trying on Wedding Gown—No Positive Clue to Identity of Murderer.

Providence, R. I., May 14.—In the absence of any theory established after a tireless search for clues, the authorities are perplexed, if not literally dismayed, in their investigation of the murder of Laura E. Regester, whose body was found early Tuesday near the cemetery of the Sons of Israel.

The known facts are that the girl was strangled to death as she was returning to her home, after trying on her wedding gown at a dressmaker's.

The investigation centers around young men friends and acquaintances of the girl. This course is being pursued on the assumption that jealousy prompted the crime. The wounds on the body suggest that Miss Regester's slayer made his attack with almost insane rage, and after stunning her with a blunt weapon, continued it with ungovernable fury.

Charles Douglass, the young jeweler, who was to have married Miss Regester within the coming month, has had several conferences with the police, at one of which he volunteered information on which the authorities will act. This conference was called following a vigorous examination of a Providence man, who had been described as a suitor for the girl's hand. His answers were satisfactory and he was permitted to depart.

Ernest G. Allen and Miss Regester were divorced four years ago, the girl resuming her maiden name. Inspector Godfrey reports Allen furnished an alibi, which has not been successfully assailed up to the present time. Witnesses have been found who say they heard Allen make threats to kill Miss Regester and her sister.

Miss Regester, who was 25, of prepossessing appearance and an accomplished musician, was the daughter of Charles W. Regester, a trusted employee of the Gorham Co., and for whom she kept house at 15 Pleasant street, Cranston. She eloped Jan. 2, 1902, with Ernest Garfield Allen, who has been actor, salesman, showman, merchant and is now a farmer.

Miss Regester left her home Monday night at 7:40 o'clock to keep an engagement with her dressmaker, Mrs. Hondo, and told her father she would return before 10 p. m.

She reached the Hondo home about 8:15 p. m., had her wedding gown fitted and boarded a street car, from which she alighted at the end of the route, near the cemetery, at 9:45 p. m. Thence it was a five minutes' walk to her home. The trolley of the car was shifted and the car started on the return trip promptly.

The girl's assailant lay in wait behind a gate and as she drew opposite he sprang forward, seized her and dragged her into a lane. These facts are established, the police say, by the articles found at the scene of the crime.

Obviously, she fought with an umbrella, which was found broken and torn nearby.

The murderer undoubtedly left the scene immediately following Miss Regester's death. His path through the cemetery and thence to any of a dozen highways can not be traced. The body was found the next morning.

A gold chain and locket and a jeweled stick pin remained fastened in the girl's waist. She had left at home a diamond and two other rings and carried only a little change in her pocketbook. The pocketbook is missing.

The police are seeking to establish if the girl had a secret love affair, which she withheld not only from Douglass, but friends in whom she apparently confided everything. If such a man were found the police say a plausible theory would be had for the murder.

"RAT" SAVES IN AUTO CRASH

Woman, Hurled to Ground Lands on Hair Adornment.

Jackson, Mich., May 14.—A large "rat" in her hair saved the life of Mrs. Richard Frost in an automobile accident here yesterday. She and her baby were both thrown from the machine when it collided with a telephone pole.

Mrs. Frost struck on her head with such force that hair pins were driven into her scalp.

At the hospital surgeons who attended her said the "rat" saved her head from being crushed. The baby was injured about the head.

MERINGUE MUST BE RIGHT.

Directions for Making That Will Insure Successful Result.

First—Be sure the pudding or pie is cold before attempting to spread on a meringue. If you have store eggs, select those having dull, rough looking shells, as shiny shells are never fresh. The whites of two eggs will cover an ordinary pudding. Separate the white from the yolk by holding the small end down and breaking the egg through the middle. If a tiny bit of yolk falls into the white, remove with a piece of the shell. Beat stiff, then add one tablespoon of granulated sugar, a little at a time. Sprinkle over one-half teaspoon vanilla or lemon flavoring. The more you beat the better the meringue. Dip a teaspoon in cold water, then in the egg, and drop in little mounds on the pudding. If you have a coal stove, have the oven hot. Put in the pudding and leave the door part way open. If you use gas, heat up the broiler or the oven, set in the pudding, shut the door and turn out the gas. When it is a delicate brown, remove from the oven but leave it in the kitchen or in a warm room for one hour before serving it away. Meringue made this way never falls and is good the next day.

The Home.

By adding one tablespoonful of butter or a half-cup of cream to the batter pancakes can be baked without greasing the griddle.

Buy a coarse gray blanket if you do not have one and keep it to place on the floor when the baby is playing there. Put the toys on it and if it is necessary to quickly clean the room of toys pick up the blanket.

To remove ink from books, valuable papers and the like a solution of water and oxalic acid, citric, tartaric or any sour acid can be applied to the blemish and, while often the process must be repeated, it will finally remove the blemish.

The soiled linen will take much less room in the clothes hamper if the sheets, pillow cases, the table cloths and the napkins are folded before being put into it. It takes but a moment to do this. A small hamper does the work of a larger one if the plan is followed.

To make a lasting mop for the floor and give the small girls something to do, save all cord from parcels, winding into a ball and crocheting a strip about nine inches wide and about twenty-seven inches long. It fits through patent handles nicely and makes an inexpensive article.

LEPER BOY AT THE KEY

JAMES ARCHIBALD THOMAS, OF UPTON, NEW YORK, ONLY 16 YEARS OLD.

JOINED COLONY ON PENIKESSE ISLAND

Lad Is Expert Wireless Telegraph Operator—His Father Was a Leper and Died of Dread Disease in West Indies.

New York, May 14.—James Archibald Thomas, of Upton, the 16-year-old high school boy banished to the leper colony in Penikese island by order of the board of health, is an expert wireless telegraph operator, and the island will in future be able to keep in touch with the world through a station to be erected there.

For the first time in the history of the colony it will be possible for the lepers to communicate daily with their relatives and friends.

Before his banishment young Thomas had fitted up a sending and receiving station at his mother's home, and recently his schoolmates decided to ship his plant and aerial mast to the island or to buy a new outfit through-out.

Thus the lad's misfortune will prove the greatest of blessings to his unfortunate fellow prisoners on the bleak little island.

In the past the only avenue of communication with the mainland has been by means of a tug, maintained by the Massachusetts board of charities, which brings the mail and supplies from New Bedford to Penikese, except when the fog or wind makes navigation impossible.

During the past three years Thomas has mingled freely with the school children at his home town in Upton, yet it is asserted that he has at all times borne the marks of leprosy. It is said that his father died of the dread disease in the West Indies.

RED LIGHT ON COW'S TAIL

Is Not Necessary for the Benefit of Automobile Drivers.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 14.—Cows and pedestrians have the right of way over automobiles. Alderman Donohue, of this city has made the decision. He was trying Charles Russell, an automobilist of Scranton, charged by Jacob Lieb with running down a cow and injuring it at a street crossing in this city.

Lieb wanted $65 damages. Russell declared the cow and Lieb had no right of way, but Donohue decided they had, and Lieb was not required to hang a red light at the cow's tail, either. He fined Russell $4 and costs for using profane language and continued the damage case.

THE BABY DID NOT TALK

Simply a Lie Manufactured Out of Whole Cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gray, of Hopkins, Mo., are justly indignant over the story that has gone the rounds concerning their three-months-old baby daughter.

The Nodaway Democrat says the editor of the Hopkins Journal interviewed the father of the child and found the story untrue from start to finish.

The baby, as all babies do in baby talk, happened to utter a few sounds that seemed like, "My hand hurts," but as to talking, the baby cannot nor has she ever uttered a single word.

THE SUNDAY NIGHT SUPPER

Time of All Times Where the Expert with the Chafing Dish Can Make Good.

Probably the most sociable meal in the whole week is the Sunday night supper. It is an informal occasion for the dropping in of intimate friends, and the informality adds to its charm. In many households the servants are allowed to take a holiday on Sunday afternoons, and the members of the family bestir themselves for supper with the chafing dish, and perhaps the delicatessen shop, as assistants. It is an opportunity for experimental cooking with an indulgent company and the delicious dishes that may be concocted on these occasions are manifold. Of course, a gas stove is even better than a chafing dish for cooking things, but the shining metal dish over the alcohol flame is a very cheerful looking ornament on the supper table. While somebody mixes the salad and somebody else slices the bread, the confident culinary queen, who is generally the eldest sister, takes the chafing dish in hand.

The Home.

Sugar should be added to turnips, beets, peas, corn, squash and pumpkin. Spareribs should be broiled rather than roasted, and served with apple sauce and mashed turnips.

It takes longer to cook sweet potatoes than the common kind and they cook more quickly in salt water.

A meat chopper may be better cleaned by running a piece of bread through the machine before washing. Oatmeal can be used instead of barley or rice in the soup. It thickens it, and adds a flavor which is pleasant.

Place mirrors so that the direct rays of the sun do not fall upon them. It gives the glass a milky appearance which can never be entirely remedied.

To remove tea, coffee, fruit and vegetable stains from white goods, heap salt on the spot, rub hard, and rinse it in hot water in which considerable borax has been dissolved.

A reliable test for mushrooms, says an experienced housekeeper, is to put a bit of silver, such as a well-washed dime, into a dish in which they are cooked. If it discolors the mushrooms are unfit for food.

Keeping Bread.

For a bread box, a covered stone crock.

The bread will keep much nicer than in a tin vessel.

The crock should be placed in a cool place.

Never put the bread in it without covering it with a cloth, to exclude the air.

To keep sandwiches that have been prepared beforehand moist, wrap them in a slightly-damp cloth.

This is not practical if they are to be kept too long, as they will get musty.

Be careful that not a bit of butter gets into the bread box. It will get rancid and make the rest of the bread taste.

Receipts should be sealed out frequently, being wiped well afterward.

The cloths used to cover the bread should also be washed often.

HE WAS CRUEL TO WIVES

TWO DRIVEN TO SUICIDE, ONE TO DESERTION AND THE FOURTH MURDERED.

HUSBAND A SUICIDE AFTER THE KILLING

Lad, at Coroner's Inquest Over Parent,
Tells Simple Tale of Brutality
—Jealousy Was the Cause of the Murder.

Chicago, May 14.—The story of a man who by his cruelty drove two wives to suicide and a third to desertion and murdered a fourth, all within less than five years, was told by his 11-year-old son, Emanuel Heinz, yesterday at the inquest over the bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Heinz, at Harty Bros. undertaking rooms, 1615 Ogden avenue.

The coroner's jury found that Heinz murdered his wife in a jealous rage and committed suicide by throwing himself under a Metropolitan L. train.

The child's testimony also strengthened the belief of the police that Heinz invited two friends to his home Wednesday night for the purpose of testing the fidelity of his wife before killing her.

The two men—Frank Smith, a machinist, and Albert Emerson, an electrician—were fellow workmen of Heinz.

"My father had been married four times," Emanuel said. "The first wife, Mary Sombinek, was my mother. She drowned herself in the Douglas park lagoon about four and a half years ago."

"Did your father mistreat her?" he was asked.

"Yes; he beat her often. I guess she couldn't stand it any longer. He waited a little while and got married to another woman. Her name was Agnes. I don't know what her other name was before she married him."

"He was cruel to her, too, and she killed herself with gas. In about six months he married Frances Kopecky. She said my father was too mean to live with and left home. Then he married Agnes Neiman about two and a half years ago."

"Was your father jealous of her?" the deputy coroner asked.

"Yes, and he threatened lots of times to kill her. He wouldn't stay up stairs with us, except to eat his meals. He slept in the basement. He was down there when the two men came to our house."

"I went down and told him they were there, and he said for me to tell them he was not at home. I went back and told my mother in Bohemian that he was in the basement but did not want to see the two men."

"One of them gave me a nickel to go to the theater, and when I left the house my father asked me through a window where I was going. I told him and he said it was all right."

"When I came back I found a pool of blood in the kitchen, and I went out in the yard and walked against something. I looked, and it was my stepmother. She was dead. Then I called the neighbors."

"Yes, my father was always watching my stepmother and wanting to know where she went and everything she did."

GUESTS AT DINNER

MERE MAN THINKS HE HAS A
"KICK" COMING.

Speaks Sadly of the Friends of His Wife Whom He Has to Endure,
While His Chums Are Boycotted.

No one can remember when it was that the first woman complained of the friend that her husband brought home to dinner. But it must have been a very long time ago.

And all these years men have gone on, suffering from this imputation. It has indeed been a standing joke that no man has a right to bring home a friend to dinner that his wife doesn't know about beforehand.

But how about the other side of the affair? How about the friends that one's wife brings home to dinner? No word of protest has yet been raised by husbands. But is it not time that something was done about it?

There is the old schoolmate your wife hasn't seen for years. She comes on to spend a couple of weeks—or even a month—in the height of the business season, when, if there is anything else you desire, it is quiet and peace in your own home.

The chances are that she is the nicest kind of a person—recking with culture, and, doubtless, enthusiastic about the opera—which you detest—and the strain of appearing well before her becomes more and more intense as the days roll by, until at last you throw off the mask and appear as your natural self. This, of course, calls down upon you your wife's condemnation, and when her friend departs at last she declares, with tears in her eyes, that she will "never have her again."

Then there is the silent dressmaker that your wife has at regular intervals. It isn't exactly that she should eat at the same table with you. On the other hand, there is no reason why she shouldn't. She is highly refined and has been used to even much better things than you are able to provide. Then why not? And she does.

Of course you cannot mind about this. It would stamp you as a narrow-minded brute to assume for an instant that she isn't as good or better than you are. As a matter of fact, this thought has never occurred to you. It isn't because you feel any superiority that you wish your privacy. You explain all this to your wife, but she tosses her head in the air and says: "If you think you can afford to have all my gowns made outside, why, very well."

Among others whom your wife brings home to dinner without asking your consent is the president of the Woman's club, the minister's wife, the intimate friend in the next square whose husband is away on important business, and with whom you are obliged to walk home afterward, standing meekly on the front porch until she says that it's all right. There is the trained nurse your wife had during her last illness, the teacher of music, who comes of a "fine family," and the nice old lady who used to live next door to your wife's mother.

You smirk before them all. But when some morning you timidly assert that your old friend Jack Pratt is in town, and if she doesn't mind you will have him out to dine, and she gives you a stony stare and says that she has put up with that sort of thing just as long as she is going to, why, then—there you wonder at the ways of Providence, and if after all, the ways of women are always justified.

VARIETY IN SALADS

DISH THAT LENDS ITSELF WELL TO EXPERIMENT.

Successful or Nonsuccessful, It is an Excellent Way of Using Up Odds and Ends of Meat to the Best Advantage.

Salads are such excellent things to try experiments on, because if they go wrong it's such a very cheap form of extravagance—not like a cake, in which one uses such quantities of eggs and butter. Housekeeping would be so dull if one tried no experiments at all, and you may be lucky in having an appreciative sort of family, who do not forget to say so when they like a new thing, and are quite good-tempered about it even when it doesn't turn out well. "Better luck next time."

Some families never seem to realize that no housekeeper can possibly be successful always, and that if they like variety they must sometimes be prepared to enjoy beefsteak pudding, even if when the time to eat it arrives it turns out to be a hash or a stew instead!

The great thing with a salad is to make it look pretty, and for this reason any brightly-colored vegetable or fruit, such as carrot, tomato or beetroot, is especially valuable. And it is such an excellent way of sing up odds and ends of meat. Even quite tiny bit of meat, if minced, well-flavored, mixed with a little thick sauce, placed in the center of a bed of lettuce or cold cooked vegetables, and served with a mayonnaise sauce, makes a quite presentable dish.

Or sometimes, instead of serving it as this, you can mince the meat, fill the molds with it, pour over each a little of the aspic jelly that one can buy all ready for use in bottles, and turn out. These little molds of meat look so pretty arranged on a nice of salad, as the aspic jelly costs only a quarter or so a bottle, and little is needed, it isn't a great extravagance.

But have you ever discovered what an improvement a few well-chopped capers, sprinkled over at the last minute, will sometimes prove to a salad? Try it next time you are experimenting and you will have a satisfactory recipe for a fruit salad dressing. If not, you may care to try this: One gill of water, one gill of fruit juice (or syrup from tinned fruit), a quarter of a pound of lump sugar, juice of one lemon.

Boil the sugar, water and syrup together till when you take a tiny drop between the finger and thumb it draws out into a thread. Then let cool and add lemon juice. Pour over the fruit, and allow to stand an hour or two before serving. To this may be added any kind of flavoring that you fancy.

For ordinary lettuce salad use this: Half a level teaspoonful of salt, quarter of a level teaspoonful of black pepper, four tablespoonfuls of salad oil, one tablespoonful of vinegar. The flavor of onion can be given by adding a very little grated onion.

Salt and pepper are well mixed together and oil and vinegar added, drop by drop, till all is mixed in. Some people like more vinegar and less oil.

Spinach Molds.

One-half cup of chopped spinach, one cup of soup stock, heat together. Add one teaspoon of gelatin (mix your gelatin in a little water). Season with salt, pepper to suit taste. Set away to harden. Garnish with hard boiled eggs and lettuce leaves on a platter and serve with salad dressing. Salad dressing: Half cup vinegar, three eggs, one tablespoon of olive oil, one-fourth of a tablespoon of mustard, three tablespoons of sugar, half tablespoon of salt. Stir well. Add one and a half cups of boiled cream. Place the saucepan in another of hot water, stirring until it thickens, and strain.

Compote of Pigeons.

Have some pigeons ready trussed for braising, and put them in a covered stewpan with an ounce and a half of fat or butter, a bunch of herbs tied up, say a sprig of thyme, parsley, and two bayleaves, about a quarter of a pound of raw bacon cut up in little square pieces, a dust of paprika, half a pint of peeled button onions, or two large ones cut up in small squares and some carrots cut in pea shapes; fry till a nice golden color; add about half a pint of stock and some turnips prepared similarly to the carrots, and let the whole simmer for about half an hour; as the stock reduces put a little more of it; take up the pigeons and remove the string from them; dish them; remove the fat from the gravy, reboil and pour round the pigeons, with the vegetables and bacon in little bunches.

Fruit Cake Without Butter or Flour

Beat thoroughly the yolks of 1 eggs with one pound of confectioner's sugar; add one and a half teaspoonfuls of cinnamon and the same of cloves; a half pound of dates, cut in small pieces; half pound of citron, cut fine; half pound seeded raisins; half pound almonds, blanched and rolled fine; eight soda crackers, rolled fine and sifted with two and a half teaspoonfuls baking powder; two squares of sweet chocolate powder; the grated rind and juice of a lemon; a wine glass of wine or brandy, and the whites of 12 eggs, beaten only, and added last of all. This cake is excellent and will keep for months.—National Food Magazine.

Orange Charlotte.

One-third box of gelatine, one-third cup cold water, one-third cup boiling water, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one cup orange juice and pulp whites of three eggs. Soak the gelatine in cold water till soft, add the boiling water, sugar and lemon juice. Strain and add the orange juice, and a little of the grated rind. Cool in a pan of ice water, and when it begins to harden beat in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs. Serve with a custard made with the yolks of the eggs, one pint milk, three heaping tablespoonfuls sugar and a little salt. Flavor to taste. Or it is fine cut up in little cubes and served with whipped cream.

LOCAL PURE FOOD WORK

COMMISSIONER W. P. CUTLER, OF MISSOURI, WRITES ON THE SUBJECT.

A TOTAL OF 467 INSPECTIONS ARE MADE

System of Scoring Stores and Markets Has Been Put in Operation —The Pure Food Law to Be Enforced.

Columbia, Mo., May 14.—Missouri is entering upon her third year of pure food work. During the initiatory two years, under the state pure food law, which is a copy of the federal law, many adulterated and impure foods have been eliminated from the market and the general trend of the consumer has been toward demanding better food and to acquaint himself with the law as a means of obtaining better foods.

The undersigned was appointed state dairy and food commissioner February 20, last, by Governor Hadley. A H. Douglass, of Columbia, was appointed deputy commissioner and the following four inspectors were appointed: Dr. H. B. Allen, Parkio; Dr. Wilbur Smith, Springfield; E. H. Ham, Montgomery City, and Adolph Meer, St. Louis. Each inspector is given a certain section of the state to cover. The analytical work will be done by the deputy commissioner under the supervision of the expert station chemist.

The work of the inspectors is mapped out by the commissioner, and each town or city in the state is taken up in systematic order, and a thorough inspection made of all places where food is manufactured or sold.

The following is a summary of the work:

A total of 467 inspections has been made, in detail as follows: Drug stores, 27; meat shops, 59; confectionery stores, 10; groceries, 240; bakeries, 22; dairies, 31; creameries, 1; hotels and restaurants, 63; wholesale and jobbing houses, 12; mills (flour and feed), 2.

The territory already inspected and in which inspection is now being carried on includes the cities of St. Louis, Kansas City, Springfield, Hannibal, Jefferson City and Columbia.

A system of scoring stores and markets has been devised and put in operation. This takes into account the cleanliness and general appearance of the store and the condition of the dealer and the food sold by him. Fifty places have been so scored, including grocery stores, meat markets, bakeries, drug stores, dairies, hotels and restaurants.

One hundred and sixty-nine samples of food have been taken, a large part of which are milk samples. Short weight inspection is now being carried on by the department and over 100 samples of flour have been weighed, a report of which will be given later.

It is the intention of this office to see that the pure food law is enforced, strictly and without fear or favor, and the co-operation of every food interest is sought to this end.—W. P. Cutler, Commissioner.

THIS LAD IS A "DOPE FIEND"

Seven-Year-Old Boy Taken to Hospital for Treatment.

Columbus, Ohio, May 14.—In the juvenile court it developed that Leroy Dennis, a 7-year-old lad, was a confirmed "dope" fiend, and he was turned over to the Children's hospital for treatment.

It is said that the boy contracted the habit when a baby, the drug being laudanum, which was given him to produce sleep.

NEVER TRUCE BETWEEN VARIETIES OF ANTS.

Small Creatures Are Inveterate Fighters, as Well as Having Qualities of Industry That Rival the Busy Bee.

"On the morning of August 11," says a writer in Suburban Life, "I gathered a few black ants and a number of their small brown, egg-shaped cocoons from an ant hill in my yard and placed them in a shallow glass box, an artificial nest, where I watched their behavior."

"Not long after this I discovered a winged black ant promenading under the apple tree—very likely a blood sister of the others, for when I placed her with them she was not attacked, as was a large ant with a red thorax that later I introduced among them."

"Strange how ants recognize both friends and enemies through the sense of smell rather than by the sense of sight. No sooner do two ants meet than they cross noses, so to speak, in order to ascertain who is who. If the insects find that they belong to different communities war is at once declared."

"This was the case when the ant with the red thorax was confined with the black ants. How vicious both species were, how they snapped at and bit each other! One black ant succeeded in grabbing an antenna (feeler) of her antagonist, to which she held as the big red ant dragged her from place to place."

"Another black ant smelled her opportunity and caught the hind leg of the enemy, who was thus greatly handicapped in her movements. Still

"Very well, I'll come to-night. What seems to be the trouble? Has he caught a bad cold?"

"No, he hasn't any more of a cold than it is common for most people to have at this time of the year. I really don't know what is the matter with him. I think you ought to give him a thorough examination."

"I'm sorry to hear that his health is not good. I thought when I saw him a few days ago that he was looking remarkably well. When did you begin to notice that he was not feeling right?"

"Why, he claims that there is nothing the matter with him, but, of course, there must be."

"Does he appear to be bothered by indigestion?"

"No, he has always been very free from anything of that kind. You see, he manages to get a good deal of outdoor exercise."

"That's good. A man who takes plenty of outdoor exercise really ought to have little use for a doctor. Perhaps the trouble is with his eyes. Does he complain of having headaches?"

"No, he never has them at all."

"Well, does he seem to be run down physically?"

"Not noticeably so."

"Is he unusually nervous or irritable?"

"Oh, no, not at all. Really, do you know, I sometimes believe he can't have a nerve in his body. He is always so placid. Nothing ever seems to disturb him in the least."

"A very curious case, indeed. What has caused you to think I ought to examine him?"

"Why, he hasn't been in bed a day or taken a drop of medicine for about fifteen years, and I can't get it out of my head that he ought to see a doctor before he gets down sick. It may be that an operation of some kind now would save him an awfully hard time later on."—Chicago Record-Herald.

GOOD DRIED FRUITS

THEIR POSSIBILITIES IN THE WAY OF DESSERTS.

Are Most Delicious and Wholesome When Properly Cooked—How to Retain Sweetness and Flavor of Fresh Fruit.

At this season, as the preserve closet stores are dwindling on the shelves, the housewife naturally turns to dried and evaporated fruits. Properly cooked, the dried fruits are delicious and wholesome. The only reason that their popularity has ever waned has been due to bad cooking. All dried fruits require long soaking to restore the lost juices, then slow cooking to develop the latent sweetness and fruit flavor. Prunes cooked in this way need no sugar at all, unless one has a phenomenally sweet tooth. Currants and raisins lend themselves to a great variety of wholesome dishes, the currant particularly being now recognized as a real health food. Carefully dried apples make a sauce almost as good as the fresh apples, to say nothing of delicious pies and cakes. Cherries, plums and pears properly treated may be used satisfactorily almost any way that fresh fruits are cooked.

Few housekeepers realize the possibilities of dried apricots as the basis of delicious desserts. Added to mince-meat or combined with other dried fruit their delicate acid flavor serves to bring out the rich flavor of other ingredients. They require long soaking—from ten to twenty hours—using plenty of sugar in the water in which they are soaked; if they are ripe and appetizing they are then ready for use, without any cooking whatever. Simply drain, boil the syrup down one-half and pour over the fruit. If the fruit was put up a little green they may need some cooking; but it must be a gentle simmer, not a rapid boil, which toughens.

A nice combination of flavors is found by using equal quantities of prunes and apricots. Wash thoroughly and soak overnight in water to cover. The next morning simmer until tender, then press through a colander. Sweeten to taste and cook a

NEW PRIEST IS NO FAN

Comes From Parish Baseball Loving Pastor Refused.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—The parish of Our Lady of Good Counsel will have a new pastor Saturday, when Father J. R. Watson will succeed Father Tracy, whose enthusiasm for baseball has brought him much notice of late.

Father Watson has been transferred from Byrnesville, the country hamlet to which Father Tracy was transferred by Archbishop Glennon, he is no baseball fan and is not expected to be open to Father Tracy's temptation.

Father Watson, who is a brother of Andrew J. Watson, a process server, is expected here Saturday. The archbishop said Thursday he has heard no word from Father Watson, but expects him to accept the pastorate.

Archbishop Glennon declined to discuss in any way Father Tracy's announced decision not to accept the Byrnesville post, but instead to take a long vacation and remain in St. Louis during the baseball season.

PANAMA GOOD OBJECT LESSON

All Nations Will Profit by the Sanitary Standard Set by Great Undertaking.

The building of the Panama canal and the sanitary record of the Japanese in their war with Russia are the two great object lessons of recent years, demonstrating that men can neither work nor fight to the best advantage unless protected from infectious and preventable diseases.

The civilized nation which will hereafter put an army in the field or undertake a great engineering problem without first preparing the way by adequate sanitary engineering and equipment will be regarded by the other nations, says the Medical News, as quite as foolish as a government which would build a vast fleet of modern warships and then arm them with muzzle-loading ordnance of 100 years ago.

An epidemic of typhoid fever in a military camp should be considered a greater disgrace to an army than a defeat in battle since defeat may come in spite of the greatest exertions and the highest wisdom, while typhoid and yellow fever would be the result of ignorance or disregard of well-known laws of prevention. All nations will profit by the sanitary lesson of the Panama canal.

The scourge of yellow fever against which the French struggled in vain, has not been there since May, 1906, although it exists at several points to the north and south of the canal zone. Bubonic plague has not appeared since August, 1905, but that disease also has broken out not far away. No case of smallpox has been reported during the year.

keeper in Missouri to provide his beds with sheets of less length than ninety-nine inches. This is one of the provisions of a house bill passed by the senate yesterday. The standard length of bed sheets is ninety-nine inches, but the commercial travelers complain that some hotels provide shorter sheets.

The ancient roller towel is not done away with, as the traveling men asked, but hotel keepers are required to make frequent changes.

This measure is a strict sanitary law for the regulation of hotels and for the protection of guests from fire and disease. It will not interfere with the better class hotels. It provides for an inspection of all hotels by a state inspector, who will be appointed by the governor.

WOMAN GAGGED AND ROBBED

Marauders Force Elderly Widow to Give Them $600.

Greenville, Ill., May 14.—Gagged, bound hand and foot, and robbed of $600 in the middle of the night by three masked men, who entered her home, was the experience of Mrs. George Hill, an aged widow, living here. The robbery occurred late Tuesday night but Mrs. Hill did not mention it to the officers until yesterday.

Mrs. Hill says the men awakened her in her room and demanded money saying their families were starving. She got up out of bed went to the dresser drawer and secured the money for them. They then bound her hands and feet and placed a handkerchief in her mouth, departing through a kitchen window, which she left unlocked that night.

St. Louisan Who Got on the Right Side of the Wheat Deal.

St. Louis, Mo., May 14.—With his twenty-fifth birthday still to come, William N. Aubuchon, Jr., has made a little more than $100,000 this spring by following the lead of James A. Patten in wheat deals, out of a working capital of less than $1,000. Mr. Aubuchon traded exclusively on 3-cent margins.

He declines to admit how much less than $1,000 he invested at the start, but he turned his capital many times and reinvested all his profits, till he drew out finally far ahead of the game.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible. But I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease. In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, I can cure all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

CRYSTAL THEATRE OPEN

Packed "House" Greeted Initial Performance of New Open Air Place.

Crystal theater, Sedalia's new open air playhouse, opened last night to an audience that exceeded the seating capacity of the house. Everything moved as smoothly as though the place had been in operation for months, and many were the expressions heard complimentary to Mr. Capen, the owner, for the generous way he has managed in erecting a theater that for desirability surpasses anything of its kind in Sedalia, and for the character of the entertainment produced. The program last night contained two double and single vaudeville turns, moving pictures and illustrated songs. Mr. Capen is grateful for the interest shown by the public and last night ordered new films, which he will add to the already large program without extra cost.

The new playhouse will accommodate 1,000 to 1,200 people, and the very liberal admission of 10 cents is all that is asked.

BLIND WHILE FAST ASLEEP

Efforts to Awaken Unavailing—Later Awoke Sightless.

Redding, Cal., May 14.—Miss Clara Cooper, of Montour, Ia., was suddenly stricken blind on the eve of her departure for Iowa, after a visit to friends here.

When called Sunday morning it was found impossible to awaken her. An hour later she awoke, but could not see.

At first it seemed to her that it was still night, but it soon dawned upon the young woman that she was totally blind.

Today she could distinguish light from darkness and physicians hold out hope that she may recover her eyesight.

Miss Cooper had never had trouble with her eyes before.
